

Media Release, November 19, 2014

Contacts: Beryl Anderson, 925-947-3535, 925-451-8376 cell, banderson@SaveMountDiablo.org
Communications Manager at Save Mount Diablo

Pearl Harbor Day Beacon Lighting Ceremony Moved

Photos: Hi-res images may be downloaded here:

<https://www.dropbox.com/sh/0wrwnd6u6v76zs7/ESF5zijaG>

Credits: are included in the file names. Please contact Beryl for caption requests.

Concord, CA – Last year, the strong winter chill moved the Mount Diablo Beacon Lighting Ceremony down from the mountain’s summit. The same concerns of ice atop Mount Diablo and for the comfort of those in attendance, particularly local Pearl Harbor Survivors, will keep the Lighting Ceremony at the Cal State East Bay campus in Concord again this year. But thanks to CCTV lending Save Mount Diablo a hand, everyone will be able to see both the ceremony and lighting from the campus as well as up close footage of the Beacon from the summit.

The public ceremony honors those who served at Pearl Harbor and celebrates the rejuvenated Beacon that will shine in their memory. Everyone is invited to attend the ceremony in the Oak Room of the Library at the Concord Campus of California State East Bay and watch our local Pearl Harbor Survivors lit the Beacon to shine for this one night of the year.

A commemorative symbol of those who lost their lives at Pearl Harbor, the Beacon is relit by Survivors each year in a ceremony attended by their families and the public. Although the ceremony has been held at the Summit Building, this is not the first time it has been moved due to the mountain top’s devilish winter weather over the last 50 odd years. The Survivors remain undaunted and from sunset on Sunday, December 7th, to sunrise the next morning, the restored Beacon will shine brightly in memory of their sunken shipmates.

“We are grateful to have been involved in the restoration of this historic symbol of freedom,” said Ron Brown, Executive Director of Save Mount Diablo. “Its restoration ensures the memory of those who lost their lives on that historic day will continue to live on.”

The Beacon was originally installed and illuminated in 1928 to aid in trans-continental aviation. It is one of the four guiding beacons installed along the west coast by Standard Oil of CA and is the only one known to still be operational. After the attack on Pearl Harbor, the Beacon’s light was extinguished during the West Coast Blackout, for fear it may enable an attack on California. It stayed dark until Pearl Harbor Day 1964, when Fleet Admiral Chester Nimitz relit the Beacon in a commemorative ceremony and suggested it be illuminated every December 7th to honor those who served and sacrificed. Since that day, Pearl Harbor Veterans and their families have gathered every December 7th to see the light shine once again.

Over the years, the Beacon fell into severe disrepair and required significant restoration. With the California State Parks' limited budget and a need to move quickly, Save Mount Diablo volunteered to fundraise and organize the Beacon Restoration Project. In the process, many individuals and businesses stepped up to help restore the historic Beacon, including Assemblywoman Joan Buchanan, the Dean & Margaret Leshar Foundation, Contra Costa Times Columnist Joan Morris and her readers, Shell Refinery in Martinez, Maxim Crane and Chevron.

Media

Photo and video opportunities of the Pearl Harbor Survivors will take place both inside the Oak Room during the program and outside at the campus as the Pearl Harbor Survivors remotely light the Beacon.

Summary

What: Concerns of ice atop Mount Diablo and for the comfort of those in attendance, particularly local Pearl Harbor Survivors, will keep the Lighting Ceremony at the Cal State East Bay campus in Concord again this year. But thanks to CCTV lending Save Mount Diablo a hand, everyone will be able to see both the ceremony and lighting from the campus as well as up close footage of the Beacon from the summit.

When: Sunday, December 7, 3:45pm – 5:30pm

Where: The ceremony will be held in the Oak Room of the Library Building at the California State East Bay Concord Campus, 4700 Ygnacio Valley Road, Concord, CA 94521. Directions: <http://goo.gl/maps/jXhcW>.

Who: Save Mount Diablo, the Sons & Daughters of Pearl Harbor Survivors Association and California State Parks will light the “Eye of Diablo”, Mount Diablo’s Beacon,

Why: The Mount Diablo Beacon is lit each December 7th to memorialize Pearl Harbor Day and remember those who served.

For more information about the Beacon Lighting Ceremony: please visit http://www.savemountdiablo.org/activities_events_beacon.html

or contact Save Mount Diablo's office at (925) 947-3535

Save Mount Diablo is a non-profit 501(c)(3) conservation organization, which has been preserving lands on and around Mount Diablo and educating the public to the mountain's natural values since 1971. Preserved lands have increased from 6,788 acres in one park to more than 110,000 acres in more than 40 parks and preserves. Save Mount Diablo continues to preserve, defend and restore the remainder of the mountain for people and wildlife to enjoy. Contact: Save Mount Diablo, telephone: (925) 947-3535, fax: (925) 947-0642, 1901 Olympic Blvd., Suite 320, Walnut Creek, CA 94596; www.SaveMountDiablo.org ###